

A decorative border with a repeating pattern of light blue and white floral and scrollwork motifs surrounds the central white area.

AFTERNOON TEA

Yacht Club

England, 1840

Tired of the wait between lunch and dinner, Lady Anna (the 7th Duchess of Bedford) would send for a pot of tea and light snacks to be enjoyed in her chambers. She started to invite her high society friends to indulge in this afternoon pastime and before long, the concept of Afternoon Tea was born.
